

Forest School by Miss Haynes.

At Forest School I help students learn new skills, by modelling.

Once students have mastered lighting a fire, we start to cook.

For enrichment we meet on the school field. This gives the students a chance to chill out and talk to others that they might not have spoken to.

I encourage students to socialise whilst they are eating toasted marshmallows.

I allow them to try things out that they may not have tried before.

It is important for the students to take ownership and respect of the camp.

I introduced the next phase of Forest School, the Forest Rangers.

I introduce crafts that they can produce for themselves.

It's great to watch a student achieve something that they may have struggled with before, showing resilience.

I help nurture friendships and bonds that can last a lifetime.

I facilitate team building and praise positive attitudes.
